

Freelance Experienced Interactive Designers

Twofour Digital is an award-winning interactive agency working with clients such as Audi, Nationwide, BBC and DTI. We are currently seeking to enhance our pool of freelance interactive designers with experience.

The successful candidates will work across Flash video asset creation, CD-ROM interface design, CSS Web layout, styling and video embedding. You will have a great eye for design and have demonstrable experience of creating stunning work relevant to its purpose.

You will be working to tight deadlines so will need to have the ability to come into a team and be immediately productive. Ideal candidates will also be expected to have academic art/design training or significant relevant experience.

Actionscript and HTML coding is necessary. Key skills include Flash, Photoshop and Director. The position is based at Twofour Studios in Plymouth.
